

2022 Faculty Certificate Gender and Sexuality Studies

The Gender and Sexuality Studies Certificate is a certification program organized by the MSS Women in the Profession committee and the LGBTQ+ Taskforce. The program provides a structure for you to focus your conference participation on issues related to, or that impact, gender and sexuality. By completing the certification process you will be able to document and will be recognized for the following outcomes:

- (1) Participants will be able to analyze in their reflective statement how concepts of gender and sexuality are created, maintained, and/or challenged through embodiment, cultural representations, and/or social organization
- (2) Participants will be able to analyze in their reflective statement how identities associated with gender and sexuality intersect with other identities (e.g., race, class, ability) to situate individuals within interlocking systems of power (e.g., sexism, classism, heterosexism, racism) and how these intersections shape identities, social interaction, cultural artifacts, and social structures.
- (3) Participants will be able to connect and apply the concepts of gender and sexuality to their own life and academic work.

For you to receive the MSS Gender and Sexuality Studies certificate you need to attend five sessions and write a brief reflection on your learning that addresses the three learning outcomes for the certificate. There are multiple qualifying sessions in many time slots that demonstrate the importance of this theme throughout the conference.

By May 6th at 12pm you must send your materials by email to Kristi Brownfield (Kristi.brownfield@northern.edu). Materials that are required include the following two items:

- (1) A list of sessions attended with signatures from the session presiders.
- (2) Your one-page reflective statement that addresses the three learning outcomes for the certificate. Your statement should explicitly address how at least two of the three outcomes were demonstrated within the sessions that you attended.

After committee review, you will be emailed a certificate that you can include on your vitae or share with those who supported your attendance at the conference. Thank you for participating.
